The office of the most influential casting director in Paris has seen it all: actors, singers, extras, musicians, even a reckless star or two--each talent more unconvincing than the last.

They all sweat under Richard's expert gaze, giving their hearts and souls to land the role of a lifetime. Whether in Paris or on the Côte d'Azur during the Film Festival, whether for a biopic, a romantic kung-fu saga, or a musical based on an X-rated movie... each episode captures the humor, the poetry, the wonder, but most of all the cruelty of this strange beast called casting.
